Preserving Stories: Oral History Workshop

Every family has stories worth saving! Join staff from the Local History department on November 6 at 11:00 a.m. for a hands-on workshop where you'll learn how to collect and preserve personal stories through oral history interviews. Registration is required and space is limited to the first 8 participants.

Fall into Gardening: Grow Your Own Vegetables This Season!

Whether you're new to gardening or looking to expand your skills, you'll want to join us for this free, hands-on workshop on November 13 at 10:00 a.m., presented in partnership with Clemson Extension. Learn essential fall gardening tips like how to choose cool-weather crops, make the most of your space, and set yourself up for a productive harvest.

Knitting Kindness: Hats for NICU Babies

During the month of September, our library branches collected hats for NICU babies. The final count for the Knitting Hats for Kindness project came to 853 hats! These beautiful, handmade hats will be donated to preemies in the NICU and will bring warmth and comfort to many tiny heads and grateful families. Thank you so much to everyone that supported this project - whether you knitted, donated yarn, helped collect hats, or encouraged others to participate - your support, time, and talent is appreciated.
